FRANCE IS TO SEND BERENGER TO U.S.

Senator is to Succeed Paul Daeschner as Ambassador in Washington

Debt Negotiations Influence Decision of Paris Government

Paris, Oct. 30.—It is learned, on high authority that Senator Victor Henry Berenger will be appointed shortly to succeed Emile Daeschner as French Ambassador to the United States.

The decision of the Government to choose an ambassador to Washington is closely related to the United States debt funding negotiations.

Foreign Minister Briand has impressed upon Premier Painlevé and others of his colleagues in the Cabinet that another effort should be made to settle the debt.

COL. WM. MITCHELL PLEADS NOT GUILTY

U.S. Army Officer Tells Court-martial He is Ready For Trial to Proceed

Washington, Oct. 30.—Having lost every preliminary effort to holt the court-martial proceedings against him, Col. William Mitchell to-day pleaded not guilty to the charge against him and informed the court-martial that he stands trial.

The trial is the result of sharp criticism of the administration of the army and navy air services voiced by Col. Mitchell just after the Shenandoah disaster.

NEWMARKET RACE IS WON BY PHARAN

Finglas and John's Son Second and Third Horses in English Event

Newmarket, Eng., Oct. 30 (Canadian Press Cable)—One of the most thrilling finishes seen on the turf this season was put in in the Free Handicap here this afternoon. When Sir John Rutherford's Pharan came out ahead in front of St. Alary's Finglas, which in turn beat F. W. Morley's John's Son by a short head. Pharan is a two-year-old colt. He started at 100 to 8 against. Finglas at 9 to 2, and John's Con at 4 to 1.

The Free Handicap is one of the several important two-year-old races that are features of the Newmarket Houghton meeting, the season's last meeting at turf headquarters, which closed to-day.

Arrests Made in Raids in Seattle

Seattle, Oct. 30.—Following charges by Rev. Dr. Ambrose M. Bailey of the First Baptist Church before 2,000 churchgoers Sunday that bootlegging, gambling and the worst vices were general in Seattle, arrests have been made. Two girls, four men and six women had been taken into custody by to-day. One of the men arrested was Donald A. Rothrock, who said he was an attorney from Colton, California.

Miss Dorothy Larne last night told police Rothrock had fled to her by pistol to accompany him to the Olympic Seattle's largest and most exclusive hotel. While held a captive she said, he told her he had killed a policeman in Arizona, and fled the state on the day of his trial. When police attempted to arrest him he drew a revolver but was overpowered.

MAN WAS KILLED IN AUTO SMASH

Vancouver, Oct. 30.—His skull fractured when an automobile skidded and somersaulted down a twenty-foot embankment at Ioco, near here, yesterday, Charles E. Dunlop, thirty-eight, an employee of the Imperial Oil Company there, and a former resident of Regina, was tragically killed.

Dunlop and three other passengers, who all escaped with slight injuries, were leaving for Vancouver to spend the half-holiday when the accident occurred.

SINCLAIR'S RIDING TO HAVE RECOUNT

Minister and Messervy, Conservative, Ran Dead Heat in Queen's, P.E.I.

R. H. Jenkins, Liberal, Was Elected to One of Two Seats There

Charlottetown, P.E.I., Oct. 30.—According to the complete figures for Queen's, P.E.I., as rechecked at the head office of the Eastern Telephone and Telegraph Company to-day, show a dead heat between two of the Government without portfolio, must yet be returned on a recount. These corrected figures show Sinclair and Messervy ran a dead heat for the second Queen's seat. Thee are Jenkins, Liberal, 8,101; MacLennan, Con., 7,382; Messervy, Con., 7,413; Sinclair, Lib., 7,413. The two seats involved had previously been conceded to Jenkins and MacLennan.

Twenty-sixty-four members in the next Parliament of Canada from the Maritime Provinces will include six Liberals and twenty-three Conservatives.

Lethbridge, Alta., Oct. 30.—Jelfif, Progressive, has 662 majority with three polls to hear from.

FRENCH CABINET DISCUSSES NEW DISTURBANCES IN SYRIAN AREA

ONTARIO RETURNS 70 CONSERVATIVES

Industrial Province Gives Government Ten Seats and Progressives Two

Farmer Party Almost Blotted Out; Woman Progressive Returned

Toronto, Oct. 30—(Canadian Press)—The Conservative victory in Ontario at the polls yesterday, which increased the Party's representation by thirty-two, defeated Premier King and seven of his Ministers and left only ten Liberals and two Progressive seats, has been paralleled only twice since Confederation.

In 1917, Ontario returned only eight Laurier Liberals, one of them only eight seats, the rest going Unionist and in 1911, at the Reciprocity election, the Liberals gained thirteen seats and Conservatives seventeen. There was one Independent returned on that occasion.

Nelson Parliament, Provincial Liberal organizer and former Speaker of the Provincial Legislature, admitted this morning that so far as Ontario was concerned the situation "could not very well be much worse" for the Liberals. Latest returns show that representation in Ottawa in the next Parliament from this Province will be:

Conservatives, seventy; Liberals, ten and Progressives, two.

WOMAN ELECTED

Miss Agnes MacPhail again will be the only woman member in the House. Running for re-election in Grey South-West, her victory was never in doubt.

The Protectionist Liberal, W. D. Fuller, easily retained his seat in North Waterloo. The Liberals made a few gains, but all except one were from Progressives, who suffered heavily. West Lambton changed from the Conservative to the Liberal column.

FORMER MINISTERS RETURNED

Several former Conservative cabinet ministers were returned, the other hand, Sir Henry Drayton won easily in West York. Hon. R. Marion, who held the Portfolio of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment in the last Meighen administration was never in doubt at Fort William.

Hon. Edmund Bristol won again this time over a split Conservative vote. He has sat in Parliament twenty years. Hon. Hugh Guthrie and Major-General S. C. Mewburn, both formerly Minister of Militia, held their ridings.

Seattle, Oct. 30.—A wireless dispatch received here yesterday from the coast of the Pacific fishing trawler Bowser near a sand spit off Gray's Harbor on the Washington coast today and tossed it end for end, bottom-side up, its crew of three being drowned.

The message said the master of the Bowser had approached too near the sand bank in bad weather, while heavy swell was breaking over it. Other fishing craft in the area witnessed the disaster.

The bodies have not been recovered.

It was believed the men were caught underneath the boat and were unable to extricate themselves.

LIBERAL GOVERNMENT MAY MEET PARLIAMENT AND FORCE TEST VOTE

Premier King Denies Report He Will Resign and Awaits Final Returns; When Count Is Complete He Will Consult Governor-General and Announce His Course Definitely; Government's Resignation Not Necessary Now, Liberal Leaders Declare, Surveying Latest Reports From Polls.

116 CONSERVATIVES, 99 LIBERALS AND 20 PROGRESSIVES ELECTED; 7 DOUBTFUL

Conservatives, With Largest Group, Still Considerably Short of Majority Over All; Doubtful Seats, All on Prairies, Are Not Expected to Help Them; Tory Party Could Not Weather Single Session in Minority, Observers Believe; New Parliament Expected to Be Short-lived in Any Case.

Canada to-day faces the probability of another Federal general election within a year to solve the deadlock which resulted from yesterday's indecisive poll. Premier King awaited final election returns this afternoon before discussing the situation with the Governor-General, but he denied rumors that he had decided to resign. Unless late returns give the Conservative Party a decided gain in strength over its present membership of 116 in a House of Commons of 245, it was considered likely at Ottawa that the present Government would meet in Parliament and test its strength in a straight vote on the high-tariff issue. On such a vote, Liberals believe, all members of the House not definitely aligned with Mr. Meighen would vote with the Government, sustaining it.

With the net result of the poll still in doubt, one certainty appeared to emerge to-day from the clouded election aftermath—Canada's next Parliament will be short-lived, regardless of what Party is in office. Political observers at the National Capital predicted the new House of Commons would meet for one session, vote supplies necessary to carry on the administration of the country's affairs, pass essential legislation and plunge again into a general election some time next year.

Denying the report that he had decided to place his resignation in the hands of the Governor-General, Premier King said to-day:

"I intend to discuss the situation with the Governor-General and then I shall make a statement of my intentions."

Meanwhile latest returns gave the Conservative Party 116 members in the new Parliament, and opposed to them are ninety-nine Liberals, twenty Progressives two Labor members and one Independent. At 3 o'clock this afternoon seven seats, five of them in Saskatchewan, were doubtful. As Saskatchewan so far has gone almost solidly Liberal, with one solitary Progressive, it is expected the nine doubtful seats will increase the Liberal strength or raise the Progressive membership. It can hardly give the Conservative Party any more members, it is thought. A recount may give the Liberal Party another seat in Prince Edward Island, reducing the Conservative total to 116. Latest reports indicate Hon. J. E. Sinclair, Minister without portfolio, may yet carry Queens, on the Island, which was reported before in the Conservative column. Liberals also lead now in Kenora-Rainy River, formerly conceded to the Conservative Party.

The situation thus appeared this afternoon as a stalemate, with Parliament more evenly divided than at any previous time since Confederation with the exception of the two-year period starting in 1872, with Sir John A. Macdonald as Prime Minister. A clear majority in the new House consists of 123 members, from among whom a Speaker would have to be elected. The Conservative Party is still considerably short of that technical majority and in actual practice a Government requires a substantial lead over combined oppositions to function successfully. In the last Parliament, of course, the Government's strength only equalled that of the two other parties combined, but in all divisions the Administration could count upon strong Progressive support. This invariably resulted in large majorities for Government measures.

PROGRESSIVE SUPPORT FOR LIBERALS

Political observers in Ottawa pointed out to-day that the Liberal Party, while not the largest group, is perhaps in a better position in Parliament than the Conservative Party. The Liberal Government can still count upon Progressive support, while the Conservative Party, always hostile to the Progressives, must stand in the House upon its own numerical strength. Apparently it has insufficient members to control the House.

What word of the Conservative gains in the Maritimes and Ontario reached Ottawa last night, followed by the defeat of Premier King and Seven Cabinet Ministers, the prevailing impression was that the Government would resign. To-day, however, no such necessity was admitted by Liberal leaders. They claim the present Conservative stand of 116 members is not likely to be increased, and that such a party could not weather a session of Parliament opposed to 129 Liberals, Progressives and Independents. Until final returns are in and Premier King has consulted the Governor-General, however, Canada's parliamentary future remains completely in doubt.

The Conservative Party's strength, as a result of the election, is concentrated strongly in Eastern Canada. East of the Great Lakes it holds ninety-six seats—sixty-nine in Ontario, ten in New Brunswick, eleven in Nova Scotia, two in Prince Edward Island and four in Quebec. West of the Great Lakes the Conservative strength is scattered except in British Columbia, where the Party gained ten out of fourteen seats. On the prairies Conservatives carried only eleven seats from the Great Lakes to the Rockies—seven in Manitoba, none in Saskatchewan and four in Alberta.

Most of these are city seats not under the direct influence of the farmer party.

ADJOURNMENT OF LEAGUE COUNCIL COMES AFTER SUCCESS IN BALKAN AREA

Paris, Oct. 30—The Council of the League of Nations, hurriedly summoned on Monday last to prevent threatened hostilities between Greece and Bulgaria, adjourned to-day with the understanding that the situation "had improved considerably."

Official notification from Allied military experts on the scene was presented at the final meeting that the Greeks had completed their evacuation of Bulgarian soil eight hours before the time limit set by the Council.

A memorandum of the League, signed by Sir Horace Rumbold, now will proceed to the spot to investigate the incidents which led up to the Greek occupation of Bulgarian territory and report its findings to the December meeting of the Council.

The closing of this week's session—the thirty-sixth held by the Council—was marked by a moving address by Aristide Briand, the president, who declared the League's existence had been fully justified by this settlement alone.

In reverent tones, which thrilled his hearers, M. Briand dedicated the session just closed to the memory of Woodrow Wilson, "who proposed and realized the League of Nations," and of Leon Bourgeois, the French statesman, who presided over the peace conference commission which adopted the League's covenant.

GULF OF PERSIA STORM CAUSE OF FIFTY DEATHS

Bushire, Persia, Oct. 30.—Messages from Bahrain Island, in the Gulf of Persia, assert the stories of the recent cyclone were exaggerated. It is stated thirty-two pearl divers were drowned and thirty-five boats were driven ashore. The fatalities in the boats and others who were missing are estimated at fifty. No damage is reported to have been done ashore.

TOLMIE AND DICKIE TRIUMPH; NEILL SWEEPS COOMX

In Victoria excitement over the returns began to show itself soon after 4 o'clock when the early returns from the Nova Scotia seats began to come in over. The Times wire and were bulletined. This excitement grew as more returns came in. Broad Street was crowded with people, watching the bulletins. The police had to put up barriers to shut off traffic and protect the crowds.

After the polls in Victoria closed at 6 o'clock, interest among the crowds reached its height, as all waited to get the first inkling of what had happened in the Tolmie-Lvel fight. The first few local returns came through to the Times a few minutes after 6 o'clock showing that Dr. Tolmie had started out by leading Mr. Ivel by about two to one. Ward Four Dr. Tolmie more than half beat this lead all the way through. Ward One and Two were the best Ivel wards, while Ward Five was strongly Tolmie. In Ward Five some of the booths were running three to one for Dr. Tolmie. The "Mac" booth, however, fluctuated between Ivel and Tolmie, ending up with Tolmie with a very slight lead.

Shortly after 8 o'clock The Times election extra as outlining complete city results and the details from eastern constituencies as were available at that time. These papers were bought up from boys who invaded the newsstands with bundles.

Despite the drizzling rain which remained in the street watching the bulletins until about 11 o'clock. There was cheering for Dr. Tolmie and the bagpipes played for him.

The Victoria vote by wards was:

| | Tolmie | Ivel | Spoilt |

WU SAYS CHINESE TREATIES MUST END

Moscow, Oct. 30.—Marshal Wu Pei-Fu, leader of the "Fourteen Provinces' Alliance" against Chang-Tso-Lin, in an interview given the Hankow representative of the Russian Telegraph Agency, said the customs service at Peking must be regarded as invalid until "a real Chinese government is established."

Unequal treaties must be abolished, he said.

Marshal Wu said his attack was directed exclusively against the Mukden regime of Chang-Tso-Lin and not against Peking.

Writer Reiterates Maritime's Claim

Toronto, Oct. 30.—"The Federal general election was over yesterday," said A. M. Belding of the editorial staff of The Telegraph-Journal of St. John, N.B., "but whoever wins, the geography of Canada is the same to-day as it was before. It is still true the Maritime Provinces belong geographically to the country South, although politically and in sentiment they belong to the Dominion."

Their economic relation to the rest of this country still awaits adjustment before a Canadian national spirit can flourish in it should East of Quebec. The Maritime representatives will sit in at the Winnipeg conference on November 16, 17 and 18, and they will await the outcome with perhaps a keener interest than the people of any other part of Canada."

HONDURAS TO PAY DEBT TO BRITAIN

Washington, Oct. 30.—A Honduran debt floated fifty years ago in Great Britain, originally £5,000,000, but now, with compound interest, amounting to nearly £30,000,000, has been settled through an agreement signed at the British Embassy here.

Honduras agreed to pay a total of £1,000,000 in semi-annual installments without interest over a period of thirty years.

TRADE PROBLEMS

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Adjustment of the debt of the United States to the United States is the chief obstacle to restoration of world trade and industrial machinery to normal. Serious impairment of French credit is major. Germany, Italy and Great Britain, and any great calamity to Europe would injure the United States. Rufus C. Dawes, who was chief of the United States section of the Committee of experts of the Reparation Commission—said yesterday in an address on the settlement of France's indebtedness to the United States before the Robert Morris Associates, a group of United States credit bankers.

Grouse have been very disappointing on the famous moors of Yorkshire, the Borders, Pennines and Abergavenny. The birds, for no apparent reason, have been poor, and this, in spite of an excellent nesting season. But grouse always provide a paradox. On the West Coast of Scotland for some years they have been almost extinct and this has been attributed to the increase of vermin in the adjacent deer forests. This year, however, they have returned in reasonable numbers. It would seem that the grouse is of a more migratory habit than is generally supposed.

CHINESE BURGLAR FOUND IN CALIFORNIA

Los Angeles, Oct. 30.—Lew Bill, described by police as the first Chinese burglar ever arrested in this county, is in the county jail here awaiting trial in the Superior Court. Even the officials thought there must be some mistake, for never before in their experience had they found a Chinese willing to make a full confession and stand by his evidence. He was presented in Justice court to answer charges he had been caught looting an apartment, and he was held to answer the charge.

On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. W. Grossplag entertained for the hundredth meeting the following resolution: "That Major Motherwell, Chief Inspector of Fisheries, be asked to meet representatives of the Cowichan Fish and Game Association and the Duncan Board of Trade to discuss alleged illegal fishing in the Salish Sea."

The president reported on the B.C. power question and after much discussion a committee was appointed to attend a city council meeting regarding this matter.

Mr. McCullough reported on the matter of succession duties in B.C., which he had discussed at a meeting in Vancouver, and he with the finance committee will look further into this question and report again to the board.

Messrs. Macmillan and McCullough were appointed a committee to arrange for him in entertaining delegations the Knights of Pythias convention which will be held in Duncan November 3 to 5.

Dr. B. E. Kerr was warmly welcomed back after his recent absence abroad, and gave a short address regarding his trip. He emphasized the necessity of returning to improve the unemployment situation in the Old Country. B. C. House asks for more help for settlers and tourists and the necessary information so that B. C. House could give more details regarding the Cowichan district.

Mr. W. C. Tanner offered his resignation from the Board of Education owing to his departure from the district. On a unanimous motion this was laid on the table.

Cowichan

Lake Cowichan, Oct. 29.—Light rains have been falling during the past few days and the water level of dry streams seems to have come to an end. This condition is not an unusual one, as many residents have been suffering from a scarcity of water in wells. In some cases water has had to be hauled from the river

Chemainus

Chemainus, Oct. 30.—The Victoria Land and Manufacturing Company have started sawing lumber which is chiefly for their own use, but one car load of big timber was shipped to Toronto yesterday. The resaw is also getting our railway ties. The machinery is being tested all over the plant. An enormous quantity of timber is now being selected adjacent to the large cranes and loading sheds which will be used only as a protection against fire, the company sparing nothing in the fire protection line. Sprinkling apparatus is being put up all over the plant.

The First Company Chemainus Girl Guides have the following patrols: there are now four full patrols, two of which have been formed quite recently, the Tulip Patrol about six weeks ago and last week the Pansy Patrol, under Patrol Leader Annie Watson and second Lilian Porter. There are now the Lily of the Valley, Violet, Tulip, and Pansy patrols. Miss Naslund from the District Health Centre, is very kindly giving a fortnightly course in sick nursing to all guides holding second class badge. The first lesson took place last week in the public schoolhouse after school closing.

Sidney

Sidney, Oct. 30.—A successful entertainment was given in the Deep Cove Social Club Hall under the auspices of the Deep Cove branch of the Navy League of Canada. There was a solo recitation by Major Rodland Layard was in the chair. The committee were Messmes Belson, Herchmer, Copithorne and R. Layard, Miss C. Belson and Miss Herchmer. After the concert dancing took place, for which Messrs. Arnold and Ford provided the music. The concert party was brought out from Victoria by Capt. Wilson and President—Capt. Wilson who delighted the audience with "The Jewish Wedding" and "Mrs. Brown's Dog." In the latter he was assisted by Mr. Arnold. A piano solo was played by Mr. Ford. A very good comic song was sung by Mr. Wickenden. "Mr. Exley sang 'Poor Little Boy of Mine'" and as an encore "Friend of Mine." Mr. Wickenden sang "Shanties of Mine" and an amorous monologue, "How He Saved the Babe."

The smoker given by the North Saanich Social Club in the old schoolhouse was one of the most successful held in the district for long times. Capt. Wilson, the president, was in the chair. A jury was panelled, which judged the various musical items. In most cases the accused was found guilty, and fines of 5 cents to 25 cents were imposed sometimes with the option of an encore. Refreshments were served at the end of the concert.

DRY FLY-FISHING IS TRIED OUT BY ENGLISH SPORTSMEN

Season in Britain Has Been Curious; Drizzles Spoil
Deer-stalking

TRADE PROBLEMS

London, Oct. 30.—The dry Summer did not break in Scotland until nearly the end of August, with the result that the rivers and lochs have been very low. A good many fishermen have turned their minds to the new American plan of fishing for salmon with dry fly in low water, and that results have been excellent.

On the West Coast of Scotland, where the rivers are small, one day's rain will often bring down a violent spate, and fisherman with a boat may have to wade through waist-deep water. There may be a few hours of first-class fishing. One such case is reported where on an Argyllshire stream in two hours two rods took a hundredweight of fish—nine salmon and twenty-five sea trout.

Dry-fishing suffered in the open water from the drizzles. As soon as the season began the weather broke, and though stages were in excellent condition and heads good, mist and drizzle have spoiled many days on the hills.

Grouse have been very disappointing on the famous moors of Yorkshire, the Borders, Pennines and Abergavenny. The birds, for no apparent reason, have been poor, and this, in spite of an excellent nesting season. But grouse always provide a paradox. A CLOSE DECISION

OUT OF THE GENERAL ELECTION the country has been thrown into a very unusual condition of political perplexity. Although the Conservatives have now become considerably the largest party, they have not a majority of the membership of the new House, and the indications are that when all the districts have been heard from they will have, at least, some twelve or more less than the combined Liberals, Progressives and Independents. Hence, if the Liberals gave way to the Conservatives on the Government benches, Mr. Meighen could carry on only on probation unless he could entice enough members from one of the other groups to assure him a majority. This is very unlikely, so the Conservative leader would face an impossible task as head of a Government. Mr. King's position also is not at all comfortable. By forming a coalition with the Progressives and Labor he could remain in office, but his majority would be only a dozen or so. Besides, the Premier and eight of his Ministers were defeated and would have to find seats, which might be a difficult performance in Ontario and the Maritime Provinces, although easy in Quebec. Thus, another election within a comparatively short time is inevitable, no matter which leader is called upon to form a government.

At the time of this writing the Conservatives have 116 members elected, the Liberals 100, the Progressives 20, Independent 1, Labor 2, with 6 in doubt. As the doubtful seats are in Alberta and Saskatchewan it may be taken for granted that most of them will be won by either the Liberals or Progressives. But a bare majority, of course, will not be sufficient. There should be a margin of at least ten to enable a Government to operate with either comfort or safety in the House, and this the Tories can not have.

The chief losses sustained by the Government forces were in the Maritime Provinces and Ontario. Sentiment in the Atlantic provinces is not hostile to the Liberal party in itself or its policy, but to what it regards as the political and economic domination of the country by Central Canada, and it has taken this means of showing its attitude. It is opposed to a high protective tariff, and wants access to the big American market of many millions of people immediately to the south of it for its products. Mr. Meighen can not provide the Maritimes with any panacea for their ailments, and he may have a band of Maritime irreconcilables within his own ranks. In any event, sooner or later he bound to be confronted with precisely the same situation in that region as that which has reacted so disastrously against Mr. King.

In Quebec the Patenaude manoeuvre proved a fizzle, only four Conservatives being elected. In Ontario the allurement of a high protective tariff offered by Mr. Meighen was irresistible, and there the Liberals were literally overwhelmed, holding less than a dozen seats out of 82, while the Progressives who had 24 in the last House were almost entirely wiped out. In the Prairie Provinces both Liberals and Conservatives gained appreciably at the expense of the Progressives, whose losses throughout Canada were even more serious than the Liberals. They probably will have less than twenty-five altogether, whereas they had 64 in the last House. The Conservative gains on the prairies were due mainly to three-cornered contests. Sentiment in that section of the country remains definitely hostile to their policy.

As far as the country is concerned the situation is decidedly unsatisfactory in the sense that until there has been another election, a decisive, vigorous administration of the Dominion's affairs will be impossible, no matter which side shall take office. Certainly the election has not improved matters, and we appear to be on the verge of a state of political confusion which will not be easily cleared.

WHAT THE LEAGUE'S VICTORY MEANS TO THE OLD AND NEW WORLDS

IT HAS NOT BEEN POSSIBLE FOR THE newspapers of this country during the preoccupations of a Federal election campaign to devote an appropriate amount of consideration either to the outstanding success of the Locarno gathering or to the even more important triumph which the League of Nations has scored by preventing serious trouble between Greece and Bulgaria—trouble which by no means could have been confined to the territory and peoples of these two countries. It is already obvious, however, that practically all the nations of the Old World that belong to the League, or are on the point of becoming members, regard these two achievements as the most substantial promise of permanent peace in Europe that has ever been extracted from an international group completely representative of the great powers. And considerably more importance may be attached to the Locarno agreement by reason of the fact that all its signatories entered into it of their own free will and accord. That was the factor which imparted such significance to the instrument itself and, in consequence, immediately doubled the authority of the League's Council and compelled instant compliance with its decree.

There is more than one cause for gratification over the League's first really great victory. To have brought Greece and Bulgaria to their senses within a few hours after the commission of the "overt act" by the former country obviously removed the danger of the local quarrel developing into a war between the two. Failure to have accomplished this much, however, would have meant exposing the whole of the southern Balkan area to the greater danger of a much more general conflagration in which it would have been extremely difficult to have prevented several other countries from becoming involved. No longer are the nations of this entirely redrawn section of the map of Europe unimportant states capable only of insignificant military operations. Countries like Jugoslavia and Czechoslovakia—partly carved out of the now defunct Hapsburg Empire and partly the effect of a complete realignment of the Adriatic coast line—are all-powerful and possess military establishments that are still ambitious to a degree. A Balkan blaze would in all probability involve them and quite as likely spread to Roumania in the East and Italy in the West. The people of Transylvania could scarcely expect to escape; and even Turkey might feel disposed to take advantage of a situation of that kind to assert her position in Europe and what she still considers to be her claims in Asia. How, under such reasonably probable developments, could the larger nations to the West of the principal trouble spot escape eventual embroilment? It is thus patent that a war between Greece and Bulgaria would soon be the immediate concern of more than 100,000,000 people in the Balkans alone, with the prospect of a much more serious extension.

In considering these possibilities, not forgetting that there are still more soldiers under arms in Europe to-day than there were in 1914—all able to take advantage of the Great War's lessons, psychologically and materially—the magnitude of the League's triumph will be understood. And it will probably have an opportunity to take a hand in the Syrian question which is now causing both Great Britain and the United States to make some rather pointed inquiries of France in respect of her treatment of Damascus. Of especial interest to the New World, however, is the fact that the great powers of Europe have voluntarily pledged themselves to the application of arbitration in all cases of international dispute that will not respond quickly enough to treatment in the normal diplomatic manner.

This is the gesture of self-help for which the United States has been waiting in order that she might persuade her people to permit more direct participation in European affairs than she has felt inclined to take while the principal battle-scarred nations were wrangling among themselves and making no effort to demonstrate their good faith in respect of mutual determination to put an end to war. The Locarno pact, and the League's victory which so quickly followed it, will now certainly have a very favorable effect upon American opinion; in fact it may be regarded as certain that before long our neighbor will be officially represented on the Council and herself an active force behind the provisions of the Covenant.

STILL THEY COME

STILL ANOTHER WONDER OF THE air has made its appearance in Britain. This time it is an aeroplane capable of carrying twenty-two passengers, in addition to the crew, and has facilities for serving them meals while flying through space at more than one hundred miles an hour, besides possessing many other traveling comforts equal to the best furnished by railway train and ocean liner.

The striking thing about the various air services which link Great Britain to the rest of Europe is the comparative absence of serious mishap. It is now nearly twelve months since the first really startling disaster overtook one of the dozens of planes which operate daily between Croydon and all parts of the Continent. In fact the service has become so popular with all classes of travelers that the day seems not far distant when the less modern forms of locomotion will find the freight and passenger-carrying aeroplane a serious rival.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

THE LOTUS-EATERS

From The London Daily Chronicle (Lib.)
There is no quick way of curing unemployment. The only remedy is peace abroad and peace with economy at home.—Sir Arthur Steel-Maitland.

We cannot afford to wait till such time as Europe is prepared to take up our goods and pay our prices. The pressing need is for better organized production at home. We are told that we are more dependent on foreign trade than any other country. True, but can we not make ourselves less dependent by producing more at home? The first need of this country is a policy which will make it worth while for farmers to develop the land to the utmost of its capacity, so that more of the corn and fruit which we have to buy abroad can be produced on our own soil.

WHO'S WHO IN HISTORY TO-DAY

CESARE BARONIUS
Roman Catholic church historian and cardinal, was born on October 30, 1558. He was librarian of the Vatican for many years. His chief work is "Ecclesiastical Annals from the Birth of Christ to the Year 1158."

DUC DE MONTMORENCY

French marshal, grandson of the better-known Anne de Montmorency, was executed on October 30, 1563, for his part in the rebellion of Fenton of Orleans.

ANDRE MARIE DE CHENIER

Celebrated French poet, was born on October 30, 1762. He is regarded by many critics as the greatest writer in French classic verse since the days of Racine. His political activities resulted in his death at the guillotine in the last days of the Reign of Terror.

JAMES SCHOOLCRAFT SHERMAN

American politician, Vice-President of the United States in the administration of President Taft, died in office on October 30, 1912. Before his election to the vice-presidency he was a Congressman from New York for twelve years.

WORDS OF WISE MEN

Hold faithfulness and sincerity as first principles. Have no friends not equal to your understanding. When you have faults do not fear to abandon them. —Confucius.

As diamond cuts diamond, and one hone smooths a second, all the parts of intellect are whetstones to each other; and genius, which is but the result of their mutual sharpening, is character, too. —Bartoli.

Rich gifts wax poor when givers prove unkind. —Hamlet.

Absence diminishes little passions and increases great ones, as the wind extinguishes candles and fans a fire. —Rochefoucauld.

Men who undertake considerable things, even in a regular way, ought to give us ground to presume Burke.

WOODEN HOUSES

To the Editor.—May I thank you for the friendly notice you put in your paper of the arrival of my family and myself at Victoria. Would you allow me, however, to correct an omission which I am supposed to have expressed in the question of wooden houses for England in connection with the housing problem and unemployment problem in our country?

The words you attribute to me might almost be read as a sneer at wooden houses. This was far from my intention, as I look upon your paper as the most pictorial magazine. My only words with regard to this matter were that, when discussing the practical and desirable proposition of Canada supplying us with wooden sectional houses, I feared there would be a mistaken prejudice against them in England.

Many thanks again for your columns, express my gratitude for the overwhelming kindness that we have received from all in Canada.

I am very much struck with Canadian beauty and possibilities, and will return home to Canada with my wife and baby, above all, at the spirit of true loyalty that I have observed everywhere to the Old Country.

SHOOTING PHEASANTS

To the Editor.—Why close the pheasant season? Are there no birds or are they plentiful? There are more than some people think, only they have to hunt for them.

What helps to make them scarce, if they are, is this: Some people say that plagues have destroyed them, but these are the plagues:

1. The fox, which dashes down the road at 8 o'clock with a gun over the door and a dog in the back seat ready to get the bird which the hunter shoots sitting in his car.

2. Humane people who have lots of cats, they will not drown, but take them to the bush to starve or eat young birds.

3. Farmers who shoot them the year round, whether he raises them or not, or whether they do damage to his crops or not.

Those are the plagues that destroy pheasants the most.

If a man is a real sportsman and can afford a good car so as to go hunting, a $100 gun and a nice dog, he can afford a outfit of coat, prong coat, shoes and pants, and get out of his car and romp the woods for pheasants and not expect them to sit in the farmer's fence posts and wait to be shot and his dog go and get them. If they cannot shoot on the wing, go to the traps and learn how. If they cannot train a dog, get some one to do it for them.

There are such hunters as these. They go home, tell how their dog stood on this bird and that bird, and how he shot this bird and that bird and never missed a shot. No, he never missed a shot straight, and his dog stood, yes stood on the floor of his car?

Plainly, if a man is a true hunter to do. Shoot every cat he can point a gun straight at, or any other thing detrimental to game.

Plague No. 2 is up to you, Mr. Game Board. The hunter pays his license fee to have the right to hunt. That money goes to help raise game for the hunting season. Now, if he goes out and kills 150 persons, merely to look on and admire the bathers who paraded along the edge of the water. The judges of costumes elicited much merriment from spectators. Miss Gracie Wellburn won first prize as "Felix" and C. McKay was second as "Hard Times."

I am a strong objector to not closing the season. If you do the hunters will be shot by the public. Mr. Clegg et al. and Mr. Farwell will shoot them just the same, so why not let the sportsman shoot them rightfully, not wrongfully, and do something towards those plagues.

When you raise and turn out the birds it would be a good idea to turn them out where a sportsman can go and shoot them without getting in trouble, and where people can shoot them the year round.

Bathing Beauties

Draw Admirers to

Crystal Garden

The masquerade carnival held at the Crystal Garden was a great attraction, several hundred of Victoria's prettiest girls, some to participate and others merely to look on and admire the bathers who paraded along the edge of the water. The judges of costumes elicited much merriment from spectators. Miss Gracie Wellburn won first prize as "Felix" and C. McKay was second as "Hard Times."

Various swimming and diving events were well contested and attracted many entrants, arousing the galleries to excitement throughout their performances. The diving, with rubber tires, and spotting effect against the water, illuminated the garden in such a way as to make the whole scheme most striking.

Original and beautiful costumes marked the evening as a distinct success.

Californian Turfman

One of Few to Win

Two Famous Classics

San Francisco, Oct. 30.—A. K. Macomber, noted California and European horseman, who owns the famous Paclines Ranch near Hollister and a beautiful home in Burlingame, is one of the few men known to racing history who won both of the famous Newmarket classics in the same year. In addition to the victory of Masked Marvel Wednesday, Macomber's Forest romped away in the Cesarewitch stakes at the famous English racing town two weeks ago.

The Macomber horses entered in the English stakes were foaled in the noted stables in France formerly owned by W. K. Vanderbilt and purchased by Macomber about two years ago.

Private Jones of the Marine Corps surprised by defeating Sam Kahnamoto in the 220-yard breast stroke.

Lester Smith bettered Warren Kellogg's Hawaiian record for the 400-yard open when he negotiated the distance in 5 minutes and 16 seconds.

Frenchmen won the 100 and 200 yards in the 220-yard breast stroke.

The man who scored the sensational win in the Cambridgeshire stakes started horse racing in California about ten years ago and produced a number of stellar thoroughbreds at Paclines and San Jose, before turning to breeding. He has produced a number of winners in the United States, his greatest success has been with the product of the old Vanderbilt stables.

AT THE THEATRES

EVERY DETAIL HAS CLOSE SCRUTINY IN "THE GOLD RUSH"

Efficiency experts, time clocks and other modern methods to speed up production played no part in the making of "The Gold Rush," and for this reason Charlie Chaplin took nearly two full years in painting the celluloid panoramas of the humorous side of life in the Klondike in his great comedy-drama now showing at the Dominion Theatre under a United Artists' Contract.

Even detail from the most insignificant subtitle to the prospectors' trudging over Chilkoot Pass, 2,500 of them in all, in a blinding blizzard, had the personal attention of Chaplin, the man who wrote the story, directed the picture and himself played the star role.

Actual filming of the picture was started by Chaplin on February 7, 1924, after months of preparation, and the final scenes were taken on April 16, 1925. More than 500,000 feet of film were used in the making, and the task of cutting and editing required months more.

It is stated that "The Gold Rush" was written by Chaplin largely through inspiration. At times he toiled feverishly on the production for days at a time, calling for utmost efforts from his studio staff to meet his requirements. Again, he rested for days away from the studio until new ideas brought him to action again.

Usually Chaplin employs very little structure to his comedy, but in "The Gold Rush" he is the centre of a semi-drama of the frozen North in the role of a hardluck "sourdough," dressed in the baggy pants, the floppy shoes, the old derby, and the cane of early association.

WHOLE TOWN WAS TAKEN OVER WHEN PICTURE WAS MADE

A special train of five cars, including a silver car, a baggage car, a dinner and club car, was the exclusive possession of Norma Talmadge for five days during the filming of "Graustark," her new starring vehicle, now showing at the Capitol Theatre.

Likewise she became the temporary owner of twenty miles of railroad, the small depot and the little town which clustered around it.

Portions of the story show Miss Talmadge and Eugene O'Brien temporarily marooned in a Western village when they miss a train. To satisfactorily film this sequence it was necessary to charter the train, the station, the town and twenty miles of country.

For five days the entire company lived on board and for the first time in her life Norma found a keen delight in making a train wait for her as long as she pleased.

ROMANTIC FIND BY ITALIAN STUDENT

OLD DOCUMENTS SHOW DESCENT FROM MEDIEVAL POTENTATES

Chicago, Oct. 30.—America Antenore was just another sixteen-year-old high school student until he brought a bunch of old yellow papers from his family home to school yesterday.

To-day he is the descendant of a leading family of medieval Florence, holders of highest offices in the gifts of emperor, kings and popes.

The manuscripts, belonging to Nick Antenore, a carpenter, America's oldest dated book to him, and his claimed descent of Charles IV, emperor of the Holy Roman Empire, and his grandson, Philip, King of Castile, attesting to honors or deeds of prowess of America's ancestors.

The documents were deciphered by Miss Margaret Olden, Latin teacher, and Professor Charles Beeson of the University of Chicago.

TO-MORROW'S HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 31

Restless and unsettled conditions are presaged for this day, judging by the trine of Venus, both by lunar and mutual configuration.

While the trine to Mercury may make the mind keen, alert and daring, yet other testimonies point to difficulties and disruption. It may be difficult to enforce even the cleverness of one's inventive, but make the mind keen, alert and daring, yet other testimonies point to difficulties and disruption. TAGGING YOUR CHILDREN the writing on the tag. Her husband's friends and her children's friends, her neighbors, the tradesmen and her servants—she tags them all apparently without the least trouble.

Her husband she tags as happy-go-lucky. He has no nerves, doesn't know what it is to have a restless night, never worries about the child's health. Tom, her son, is tagged as a hearty, healthy boy, all boy, without a grain of sentiment about him. As a matter of fact as time goes on Tom develops into something of a poet—and he's rather quiet and a bit astemious. But she still insists on thinking of him and speaking of him as a big beefsteak sort of boy.

Nellie, her daughter, is tagged as a shy, sensitive child—a regular mother's baby. As a matter of fact, Nellie grows up with a decidedly greater sympathy for her father and she is anything but shy.

Sometimes mothers brand their children as being excessively awkward, all thumbs and no fingers, and it is a wonder indeed that they ever grow up in this regard. It really is a mistake, this branding your children, because children change immensely from the time you first begin making your tags; and sometimes these preconceived notions of yours about them may do them no harm.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The trial is proceeding in the County Court of Tom Lumsden, committed for trial from the Police Court on a charge of assault.

Dr. Creaven will lecture in the Women's Institute, room 5, Surrey Block, on Saturday at 8 p.m. and on Sunday at 11 a.m.

Rev. Geo. C. Pidgeon, D.D. Moderator of the United Church of Canada and Dr. Laird of Toronto will address a great mass meeting at 8 o'clock to-night in the First United Church. Rev. Capt. Brace, R.F.G.S., will also speak. The plans and programme of the United Church, as determined by the general council in June last, will be laid before the meeting.

No Freedom For Imprisoned Man

Vancouver, Oct. 30.—Attempt of Alex Gallagher, a Stewart logger, to regain his liberty from Oakalla jail, where he has been incarcerated pending trial on a charge of bringing in Canadian asbestos which allegedly was stolen in Alaska, has been blocked by Mr. Justice Gregory, who has dismissed an application for writ of habeas corpus.

OBITUARY

The funeral of the late Mrs. John Gibbon will be held from the residence of her daughter, 1740 Fort Street, corner of Chestnut Street, to-morrow morning at 9.15, proceeding to the Lady of the Lake Church at the Willows. The remains will be laid to rest at the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery.

GAINED TEN YEARS

The funeral of Mrs. Florence Erica Halliday, who passed away at Royal Jubilee Hospital last Wednesday evening, will take place to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Sands Funeral Chapel. The remains will be buried to rest in the Royal Oak Burial Park. The late Mrs. Halliday is survived by her husband; one daughter and one son, her mother and two sisters. She resided at Jordan River for the past fifteen years.

SPIRITUAL PROGRESS

Another feature has been the spiritual forward movement throughout the new church. This has been in progress since early in this month and it has lifted the mind of the church above the disturbances and irritations incidental to Union. This spiritual movement has turned the attention of people towards the most important tasks of the United Church.

"It is realized that all that is best in the three denominations is being preserved, and this rich spiritual heritage is being turned to account to meet the needs of the hour."

CARRY ON

Funeral service was held at the Thomson Funeral Home, 1825 Quadra Street, yesterday morning at 10.30 o'clock for the late Mrs. Alice Risley, who passed away at her home, 1020 Denman, 688 Birchwell Street, October 20. Rev. F. H. Fatt conducted the service, during which the hymns sung were "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," and "O God, Our Help in Ages Past." There were many friends present, and a profusion of beautiful floral designs covered the basket and hearse. Messrs. J. Webb, William Reid, J. Ball and S. Dodd acted as pallbearers. The remains were laid to rest in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Clara Lora Orr, who passed away at St. Joseph's Hospital last Wednesday morning, took place yesterday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock from the Sands Funeral Chapel. Relatives and friends were in attendance and the casket was covered with flowers. Rev. Dr. Clem Davies officiated, and the hymns sung were "Abide With Me" and "Near Ye, My God, to Thee." J. W. Jones, H. Hanby, L. McGregor and C. Croston acted as pallbearers, and the remains were laid to rest in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery.

TOBASCO PICKED BY FIRESTONE FOR
RUBBER PLANTATION*Tire Manufacturer Branches
Out in Mexico, Following
Move in Liberia

Akron, Oct. 30.—The leasing of 35,000 acres of rubber plantation land in the province of Tobasco, Mexico, by the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company was announced to-day by Mr. C. S. Firestone, president of the company.

For several months the company has had forces at work in Tobasco perfecting the organization of the plantation there. In that time buildings and roads have been constructed, and Indian laborers have been brought from the jungles of the isthmus of Tehuantepec.

Refferring to his contention that "America must produce its own rubber," Mr. Firestone said that in addition to the recent leasing of one million acres in Liberia and opening of the more recent but smaller property in Brazil, he is considering the advisability of entering the rubber area in the Amazon river valley in Brazil.

Three hundred and fifty acres of the 35,000 acre lease in Tobasco already are producing rubber. Mr. Firestone said. In addition to a two-year lease, the company holds an option on the purchase of the lease, the president said. In the period of the two-year lease, several experiments are being tried, among research work in the sap of the castillio tree. Several thousand acres of the new lease holdings are planted with castillio as well as with other species of low-grade rubber. The castillio trees have been tapped in the Tobasco area.

While the experiments on the castillio tree are going on rubber will be collected from the more certain sources and shipped to the American markets. The plantation is located in Tobasco, where the political situation is not considered settled enough to warrant immediate taking of a long-time lease, Mr. Firestone said.

APPLE SHIPMENTS

Seattle, Oct. 30.—More than 1,200,000 boxes of apples, the largest shipment of fruit ever sent through Seattle, will be shipped to Europe and Far East this season, according to W. S. Cahill, traffic manager of the port of Seattle.

Flavour
Home Cooking

Don't think of Mustard merely as a spicy relish to enjoy with cold meat.

Mustard is a seasoning to be used as widely as you use salt and pepper.

Mustard brings out the natural hidden flavours of cooked dishes and, adding its own flavour, gives them a new zest and relish.

Big Parade of Veterans and Memorial Service Planned
For November 11

The armistice period committee have arranged to reserve the Royal Victoria Theatre for their memorial service on Sunday afternoon, November 8, at 2:45 p.m. In past years the service has been held in the open, but in view of doubtful weather, it was thought that it would be better to hold the service under cover this year. The programme for the service is now being arranged, and a large number are expected to attend.

The naval and military have been asked to send detachments, also the Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, Boys' Naval Brigade, School Cadets and ex-service associations. The following bands have been asked to participate: 5th Regiment, 16th Regimental Pipe and Brass bands, Firemen's Bands, Victoria Pipe Band and Salvation Army Band.

All those bodies who have been asked to participate are kindly requested to reply to the secretary, Robt. Macneil, 412 Central Buildings, at their early convenience.

On November 11 (Armistice Day) the two minutes' silence will be observed and at that time the armistice notification, represented by all the ex-service organizations in Victoria, will place a wreath upon the monument in Parliament Square.

ANOTHER ELECTION SOON, SAYS MCGEER

Unsuccessful Candidate in Vancouver Centre Says
Liberals There Will Win

Vancouver, Oct. 30.—Predicting another election within a very short time, G. G. McGeer, defeated Liberal candidate in Vancouver Centre, spoke to a wildly demonstrative crowd at the Liberal headquarters here at night.

"And the next time we go to bat," said Mr. McGeer, "we are not only going to wipe out the 1,200 majority against us, but we are going to get a majority of 5,000."

He came into the crowded hall by the rear entrance and appeared before a throng that became instantly vociferous in its welcome.

Smiling broadly, the defeated candidate infused cheer into the crowd before he pronounced a word.

CROWD SANG

They sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," and cheered again repeatedly.

"This is what reminds me of what of the man who was on trial for his life," said Mr. McGeer. "His counsel made an impassioned plea before the jury, using all his wit and skill to win the case. The jury was out nine long and anxious hours before it finally returned and rendered its verdict of guilty.

"The counsel turned to his client and said, 'Fine fellow, old man, I couldn't get you off.'

"And the unfortunate man who was condemned to death responded brightly: 'Why, that's all right. We might 'em hesitate, anyway.'

"That's about what happened in this case," continued Mr. McGeer when the laughter had subsided. "We still have but we made 'em hesitate, and Harry Stevens and The Province newspaper were about the sickest things in Vancouver yesterday.

"Vancouver is traditionally Conservative, but we are making good headway, and we have just finished the finest fight Liberalism has staged in a Federal election in this city. In some fashion or other the people are carried away by the false doctrine of protection.

"I know that winning an election is a delightful thing, but the next best thing is to lose one working with a splendid and plucky organization.

APPRECIATES LOYALTY

"I sincerely appreciate the loyalty and sympathy of my supporters and the splendidly organized effort you put forth.

"I am sorry I could not bring you home a winner, but there are a lot of Liberal battles in the future, and a lot of them we are going to win."

As a shout of interest down from the table on which he had been standing a voice cried above the din of applause, "Are we down-hearted?"

But he spoke too late, for Mr.

The answer was a thundering, "No!"

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Funny Face

Copyright, 1925, McClure Newspaper Syndicate

(By Howard R. Garis)

Uncle Wiggily Longears was, perhaps, as brave a rabbit gentleman as you could find between sunrise and sunset on June 28. This, being the longest day in the year, would give you more time to search for brave rabbits than would December, which is the shortest day.

So when, after he had piled the chestnut burrs on the flat stump, making a prickly seat, when, after doing this, Uncle Wiggily saw the bushes moving and something coming out, as I told you last night, why the bunny gentleman didn't run.

"I just must be brave, that's all!" said Mr. Longears to himself, though he could feel that his pink nose was slowly losing its twinkle. "I must be brave! I must be brave!" he said to himself, over and over again, leaning about on the ground, hoping he might see a stick or stone that he could use in case one of the bad chaps should come out of the bushes, when all of a sudden a laughing voice cried:

"Well, if there isn't my old friend Uncle Wiggily! How are you, Wig?" And with that Mr. Whitewash, the big, bold polar bear gentleman, came out of the bushes.

"Oh! Oh!" gasped the rabbit uncle, his pink nose beginning to twinkle again. "I'm so glad it's you!"

"Whom did you think it was?" inquired the bear.

"Well, I was thinking it might be the Fox or Wolf," said Uncle Wiggily, "but I was making myself be brave and not run, and then—Oh, don't sit down there!" suddenly shouted the rabbit.

But he spoke too late, for Mr.

Spread Happiness on Hallowe'en

Hallowe'en is a time of jollity and fun for children, and certainly the home that is provided with one of Moir's big boxes of XXX assorted chocolates will be a home radiating happiness and laughter.

The purity of Moir's makes them the best for children; their tantalizing flavours make them the most popular.

It's a sure thing that a 5 lb. box will not be too many.

They please the palate,

When she arrived at the booth with an ardent Conservative worker she confessed she had forgotten the name of the candidate for whom her nephew had told her to cast her vote.

"Why, what's the 'matter'?" asked the polar bear gentleman. "Am I sitting on any of your little bunny children? Don't tell me it's Scooter or Tom or Little Jangle. You know it must be. I can feel something soft under me—like a sofa cushion! Oh, have I sat on a rabbit?" and Mr. Whitewash, with tears in his eyes, jumped up.

"No! No!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "You didn't sit on a little rabbit, but you sat on a very prickly seat! Don't you feel the silvers of the chestnut burrs on the seat?" and away down for Mr. Whitewash, as soon as he found he was not sitting on any little bunnies, took his place again on the flat stump and the burrs.

"Feel silvers? Ho! Ho! I should say not!" chuckled the polar bear. "Why my fur is so thick I could sit on a stack of icicles and not feel them. As for chestnut burrs—pooh! Nuff and stow!" and Mr. Whitewash wiggled around on the prickly chestnut burrs, making a comfortable hollow place for himself.

"Well, I'm glad you like it," Uncle Wiggily said. "I was just thinking I might scare off some of the bad chaps with my 'telling them to sit on the prickly seat.' But I never thought you would come. What are you going?"

"I'm not going. I'm coming," said Mr. Whitewash. "I've been where I was going and I'm coming back. I was over to your bungalow, looking for you, but Flipper and Flapper, who just reached home as I arrived, said you had gone seeking more adventures."

"Yes, but I haven't met any yet," said the bunny. "I was gathering these chestnuts for Johnnie and Billie Bushytail. Suppose you and I go tell the squirrel boys they can find plenty of nuts here. On the way something may happen."

"I think something is going to happen right now!" growled Mr. Whitewash. "What's that?" and he pointed to a very funny face that was staring at him and Uncle Wiggily from behind a tree. "Oh, such a funny, grinning, yellow face as it was!"

"This," said the bunny gentleman, "is quite remarkable!" And to whom the bunny had arranged to sell him in the next store. "Oh, I hope they don't have to carry the rag doll out of the movies because she talks out loud to the piano player."

ARCHBISHOP TO BE CARDINAL

Rome, Oct. 30.—Monsignor Patrick O'Donnell, Archibishop of Armagh, Ireland, is to be created a Cardinal at the next consistory, which probably will be held December 15.

Archbishop O'Donnell was born November 28, 1855, and succeeded to the Archibishopric of Armagh upon the death of Cardinal Logue last year. He was reported in a Belfast dispatch in August as threatening to excommunicate frequenters of dancing places at certain seaside resorts in County Louth.

LARGE QUANTITY OF DRUGS SEIZED AT VANCOUVER DOCKS

Morphine Contained in Three Trunks Worth $156,000 and Intended for Shipment on Empress of Australia Is Seized by Authorities.

Following several weeks of investigation a wholesale shipment of narcotic drugs in bond from Europe to the Orient via Pacific ports has been uncovered by the Federal authorities, culminating in the seizure at noon yesterday of $156,000 worth of morphine on the docks at Vancouver.

Three trunks sent in bond from Germany to Japan were seized and opened. These were found to contain over 200 pounds of high-grade morphine. The seizure was made by Federal police authorities under the direction of the special narcotic squad of the Customs department. No arrests were made, as it was found impossible to trace here the identity of those in charge of the shipment. The trunks were to have gone on the Empress of Australia, outbound that hour for the Orient.

Morphine in the illicit addit trade sells for $30 to $65 an ounce, according to the authorities dealing in the production of narcotic addiction on the coast. At the higher rating the seizure yesterday would be worth $156,000 computed on twelve ounces to the pound.

The seizure of the morphine is by far the most important one made on the Coast within the last few years, and uncovers the existence of what had been formerly suspected, a movement of narcotic drugs in bond through Pacific ports from Europe to the Orient.

The three trunks in which the drug was contained were unmarked in any special particular, from outside, but were a record which showed they had been shipped from Hamburg to the express company handling the conveyance.

Whether the morphine was to be landed actually in the Orient or smuggled overboard after dark as the Empress of Australia was passing near the United States waters, or down to Victoria is not known, but for some time past the authorities have kept their eyes on the possibility of illicit drug shipments being dropped overboard close to the border and there rescued by fast launches operating from the other side.

The finding of several packages of opium tightly bound up and watertight to prevent their damage in the process, at Coast beaches in the last few years has led to the belief that illicit drug shipments were being smuggled in by this means from vessels steaming still some hours out of port, however, two men, both more or less particularly watched in this connection, by means of aircraft operating from Jericho Beach. The seizure in question is the first of consequence to be taken routed in the reverse direction, though its ultimate destination may have been the same, it is said.

PRairie Residents Will Visit Coast

New Low-Rate Fares Offered in Promotion of Winter Travel

Swinging into line with a general movement on the part of transportation concerns to develop a winter tourist season on the Northwest Pacific slope, the Northern Pacific Railroad to-day announces specially reduced fares from Manitoba to Victoria, Vancouver, and New Westminster.

The same low rate granted to coast excursionists going east in summer will be extended to prairie residents wishing to come to this coast in the winter. Fares again will be available in December, January and February and will hold good for a return until April 15, 1926.

The announcement follows a very general movement in which most roads are making special rates to turn the tide of winter tourist travel to the Pacific Northwest.

Prairie tourists will share in this business as concession as certain, and definite efforts are now under way to take advantage of the attractions of the city to develop a tourist business that will be evenly spread over the twelve months of the year.

Both the gross and the net earnings of the Canadian National Railways showed substantial increases during September, 1925, as compared with the corresponding month of 1924, according to official figures issued.

The gross earnings show an increase of $2,254,804, or 17.06 per cent., while the net earnings increased $1,192,615, or 48.48 per cent. After payment of operating expenses, the net earnings for the month were $3,940,078, an increase of 17.06 per cent. over September, 1924.

Since June, the Canadian National Railways have shown a steady improvement month by month as against 1924, and that improvement continues.

Gross earnings for September, 1925, amounted to $22,695,263, as compared with $19,311,455 during September, 1924, an increase of 17.06 per cent.

Operating expenses increased 8.75 per cent., being $1,066,132, as against $1,015,000 in September, 1924.

Operating expenses net earnings for the nine months of 1925 were $2,254,804, or 17.06 per cent.

The Madison is expected in on Sunday morning from the Orient, but her time of docking has not yet been set.

Upwards of 180 passengers will embark here on the Admiral-Oriental Liner President Madison, sailing this evening for the Orient with a good cargo and a fair list. Five saloon passengers and 125 steerage will join the vessel here when she arrives at 4 o'clock from Seattle. The Madison cleared from her Sound terminal at 11 o'clock to-day, and will sail from here on her eastbound run at 5 o'clock. Capt. R. E. Carey is in command.

A large party of trippers off to the Orient on a sightseeing mission before joining one of the Dollar round-the-world lines there will sail on the Admiral-Oriental liner.

The party includes Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brady, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Massie and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wilson, all of Peoria, Ill.

The Madison is taking out a fair cargo of general freight for the Oriental market, including machinery, flour and general.

The President Jackson of the same line is expected in on Sunday morning from the Orient, but her time of docking has not yet been set.

San Francisco, Oct. 30.—Mrs. May Fleming reported to the police to-day she had been robbed of $17,000 in jewels by some new found men who lured her into their apartment on Sutter Street. Mrs. Fleming said she had fallen under the influence of a named drug administered by the sale on Monday evening and when she was received on Wednesday her jewels were missing. Police are attempting to locate the men through a third party who vouched for them. Mrs. Fleming, a business woman, was unable to give the names of the men.

Teams Battle For Lead In Saturday League To-morrow

New Leader May Arise After First Division Games; Wests Meeting Services at R.A.

S.O.E. and Victoria United Play at Beacon Hill; Esquimalt go to James Island

With only one point separating the first three clubs tomorrow's First Division football games should prove exceptionally interesting. At present Esquimalt, who are on the top, have yet to taste defeat in a Saturday league match, and they are looked upon as the team to beat this year. They are being watched for first place by the Wests, United Services and Sons of England, who have only lost one match and in each case it was to Esquimalt.

Games scheduled to-morrow are: Victoria Wests vs. United Services at Royal Athletic Park. Referee, Payne.

Victoria United vs. Sons of England at Beacon Hill. Referee, McMillan.

Esquimalt vs. James Island at James Island. Referee Stokes.

All games are timed to start at 3 o'clock.

The greenshirts and Tommies hook up one of the largest crowds of the season is expected. These teams have been playing great football right along, and it would be a hard task to pick the winner. Last week the Wests secured their first victory over the greenshirts. The greenshirts put up a fine exhibition and should be able to give the Tommies a hard battle. The Services have shown splendid form in their last two matches and will be hard club to beat.

NEW LEADER MAY APPEAR

At Beacon Hill the Sons of England, one of the three clubs tied for second place, will be tested against the team that has the best record. With the teams the Wests, United Services and Sons of England, all tied for second place and only one point behind Esquimalt, a new leader may be seen following to-morrow's matches. The Sons will have their usual strong eleven on hand, while the Tommies will go through a stiff work-out last night and hope to hang up a victory.

Esquimalt journey to James Island and are looking for one of their toughest games of the season. Two weeks ago the Islanders gave the United Services a difficult time, but they have shown improvement right along. Esquimalt have lost "Taffy" Edwards, their star centre-half, who is now playing with the Veterans, and his presence is sorely missed on the Dockers' line-up. Last week Brynjolfson filled the position but he will more than likely be playing rugby to-morrow.

The teams will be as follows:

Sons of England—Holman, Tuckwell, Armitage, Dryborough, Harwood, Reg. Shanks, Swan, Bob Shanks, Conneron, Qualiton and Thomas.

Victoria Wests—Whyte, Copas, Dickie, Frampton, Thomas, Popham, Sherratt, Butler, Nez, Wright and Living.

Victoria United—Hogan, White and Newland; Dowds, Moulton and Martin; Archibald, Taylor, Saville, Groves and Allen.

Esquimalt Juniors and the Veterans will meet to-morrow afternoon at the Central Park with the kick-off scheduled for 2:45 o'clock. The Esquimalt team will be Banks, Sweeney, Wagland, Knight, Cochrane, C. Smith, Homer, Thompson, Burnett, Bain and Williams. Reserves, Chandler, Smith and Ricketts.

The opening juvenile soccer game of this season will be played to-morrow afternoon at the Central Park between the High School and Oaklands. The match will start at 2:30 o'clock.

Victoria Gun Club Will Hold Turkey Shoot Next Week

The Victoria Gun Club will hold a turkey shoot at the club grounds on Sunday, November 8, when local shots will have an opportunity of bagging their own Thanksgiving turkey.

The intention of the club to limit the number of turkeys to be won by any single shooter and to prevent any shooter from shooting for anyone else, consequently each shooter will be able to get each bird.

As both rifle and shot-gun shooting will be arranged for, everyone who is able to use his favorite weapon. No limit will be set on the calibre, make or sights of any gun.

The shooting will start at 10 a.m.

STATZ WINS GOLF TITLE

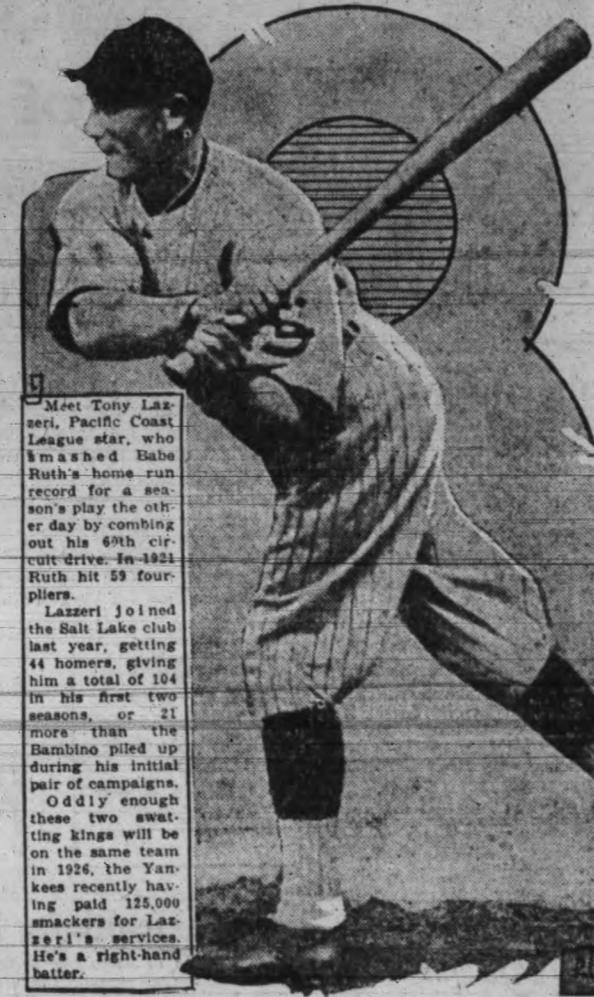

Los Angeles, Oct. 29.—Arnold Statz, former Chicago Cub and more recently Los Angeles pitcher, led the professional baseball players' second annual golf tournament here yesterday by defeating Clyde Bradford, leading Coast League pitcher last season, two up.

Earlier in the day in the finals, Statz eliminated Art (Tillie) Shaffer, former New York Giant five and six, while Barfoot defeated Frank (Pop) Dillon, former manager of the Los Angeles club, two up.

While McGraw's master-minding may have helped the Pirates, the bugs will remember Kiki Cuyler's double down the right field line much longer.

Carl Battell Has Signed to Referee In Western Hockey

Calgary, Oct. 30.—Carl Battell has been reappointed referee in the Western Hockey League, according to a statement issued Thursday by E. Richardson, president. Battell worked last season on the loop and was a popular arbiter.

Mr. Richardson was questioned regarding the selection of Mickey Ross, co-opted official, as referee for another season, but he said that he had not been appointed yet.

With the exception of five or six games two referees will be sufficient for the Winter according to the president.

Dave Smith, Star Of Amateur Ranks Signs With Maroons

Frank Patrick Announces Taking on of First Vancouver Product

Vancouver, Oct. 30.—Dave Smith, twenty-three-year-old Vancouver boy, is being given a thorough try-out with the Maroons this season. Born in this city, Smith learned what hockey he knows at the Denman Street Arena. He is the first local amateur ever invited into the camp of the Maroons for a real trial since the doors of the big arena were opened in 1911-12.

Young Smith has been playing amateur hockey hereabout for several seasons. Last year was his best. He was the best player in the Monarchs' camp last year, and was the only prolific point getter against the Los Angeles tribe when the Monarchs went barreling at the close of last season. Smith got nineteen goals in seven games during that trip.

REPORT ON NOVEMBER 8

Many a very promising amateur has failed to make the grade into professional company. There is a certain psychology connected with the sports in the ice sport which some amateurs never grasp. Whether Smith makes good remains to be seen. At any rate he is to be given a real tryout, and will take part in all practices on and after November 9, when the real grind commences here.

"Smith is twenty-three years of age," Frank Patrick said yesterday, and shows promise of developing into a forward. He possesses what is best described as a double-shuffle when moving in on a defence. This is a two-way shift, so to speak, that confuses a defence man and often permits its user to get past for a shot on goal. If Smith can develop this, I think we will carry him for the season."

The Intermediate League has expanded this year, and new teams will compete for the championship. Intercollegiate competition will be particularly keen.

INTERMEDIATES STRONG

The Intermediate League has expanded this year, and new teams will compete for the championship. Intercollegiate competition will be particularly keen.

Last year the Intermediates played splendid rugby and drew big crowds. This season they have better league and better players, and this should boost their stock now. The Intermediates shine in three-quarter play, and some of the youngsters are faster than their senior brethren.

GOOD FORWARD-LINE

Herb Pendray, leader of the Tillie's last year, will be in the forward line, as Johnny Johnson, Jimmie Miller, Jack McRae, Bill Pendray, Harry Smith and Mawhood, all members of last year's championship team. Bert Buller, of the Boys' intermediate team in 1924, moves up to the senior squad this year.

The opening juvenile soccer game of this season will be played to-morrow afternoon at the Central Park between the High School and Oaklands. The match will start at 2:30 o'clock.

San Francisco May Lose Series After Gaining Good Lead

San Francisco, Oct. 30.—The American Association Club of Sanville defeated the San Francisco club of the Pacific Coast baseball league here yesterday in the eighth game of their scheduled nine game series, the score being 12-11. The Colonels, emulating the feat of the Pittsburgh Pirates in coming from behind in the world's series, have won three games in a row and can close to grab the series to-day. The Seals used four pitchers and the Colonels three.

Score—
San Francisco 11 21 6
Louisville 15 13 6
Batteries—McWayne, Griffin, Pfeiffer, Geary and Yelle; Tincup, Wilkinson, Dawson and Myer.

Whole Canadian Amateur Hockey Team Going to New York City

Toronto, Oct. 30—Definite confirmation of the report that the Sault Ste. Marie senior hockey team, Allan Cup winners in 1924 and for years one of the outstanding amateur teams in York, was received here last evening from President Tex Saucier, Canadian senior hockey, would this Winter be playing in New York. The former Canadian champions will play in a league with Pittsburgh Hornets, United States finalists last year; Boston and Providence, with the possibility of two Eastern Canadian teams being included in the loop.

Winnipeg, Oct. 30.—The Selkirk hockey team has withdrawn from the Manitoba Amateur Hockey Association.

The plan of Selkirk to have the entire lineup of the Coleman, Alberta, team, all of whom are former Selkirk residents, was found unfeasible and caused the withdrawal.

With Selkirk out, there is little possibility of the Manitoba Association operating this season. This will mean the strengthening of the Winnipeg Maroons in the International Hockey League, as several players are likely to don the purple and white colors.

Rugby Season Opens With Four Matches

J.B.A.A., Champions for Six Years, Meet Dangerous Rivals, Oak Bay, in First Senior League Match

To-morrow Afternoon at Canteen Grounds;

Three Intermediate League Matches Are Scheduled; Youngsters in Good Shape and Ready for Big Year

With four games scheduled the rugby season will get under way to-morrow afternoon. The opening has been delayed three weeks by the hard playing fields, but the rains of the past few days have made the surfaces fairly safe for tackling.

The main interest centres around the Senior League match between the J.B.A.A., last year's champions, and Oak Bay, regarded by many as the strongest club in the league.

The seniors will play at the Canteen Grounds, Esquimalt.

The games scheduled will be as follows:

SENIOR LEAGUE

J.B.A.A. vs. Oak Bay at Canteen Grounds

INTERMEDIATE LEAGUE

J.B.A.A. vs. Cowichan, at Oak Bay

Brentwood College vs. Victoria College, at High School.

Normal School vs. Oak Bay Wanderers, at Willow Park.

University School vs. by.

Oak Bay has been busy rounding out a smart fifteen which they feel certain will halt the victorious march of the J.B.A.A. For the past six years the J.B.A.A. have swept through the league and held the Barnard Cup.

OAK BAY STRONG

Although Oak Bay have not released their actual line-up, it is expected that Duke McLellan, a hefty booter with the Tillie's, will be a factor in the game. The third quarter line will be Wally Brynjolfson, formerly of the J.B.A.A., who dropped the goal against the "All-Blacks" last Spring; John Shaw, who gallops fast and hits 'em hard, and Don Grub, one of the fast things on legs in the league. His brother, Art, is a smart kicker and deadly tackler, will be one of the half backs, while the forward line will include such huskies as "Tiny" Watson, Ross Wilson and Harold Colpman. "Cotton" Brynjolfson, a small man but as hard as horseshoes, will also be a factor in the game. The third quarter Oak Bay can call upon Tommy Lampman, New Beck, Ivel Henderson, Art Kerr, Knight, Dickson and Miller.

BOSS RETIRES?

The J.B.A.A. will take the field tomorrow without their old reliable Boss Johnson at full-back. The Boys will miss Boss, as his presence steadies the team. Boss, who last year completed his seventeenth season in McKeechne's ruby, thinks it is time to cash in his togs, but the Boys are hopeful that before long he will alter his mind and rally to their support.

Young Frampton, a powerful kicker with a good pair of hands, is to fill Johnson's slot at full-back. The third quarter line will be made up of Fraser and Billy Huxtable, on the wings, both with the Tillie's last year, and Angie McInnes and Benny Bendroit in the centre. Don McLean and Benny McMillan will perform at half-back, while they will alternate his mind and rally to their support.

YOUNG SMITH

Young Smith has been playing amateur hockey hereabout for several seasons. Last year was his best. He was the best player in the Monarchs' camp last year, and was the only prolific point getter against the Los Angeles tribe when the Monarchs went barreling at the close of last season. Pictorial Golf Instruction

By H. B. Martin

How To Practice Pivoting Without Club

Here is an idea where a golfer can kill two birds with one stone. Correct pivoting can be learned by home practice without going through the formalities of swinging a club. If one will place his hands on his hips and spread his feet just as he would if he were addressing the ball he will take position No. 1. Turn to the right until the left elbow points to the position where the ball would have been teed, had the golfer a driver in his hand.

This will be your position at the top of the swing. Turn back again as you would in making the swing and go on around until the left elbow is pointing to the front. Without taking the hands off the waist repeat the movement backward, but do so without swaying. This will be beneficial in learning the true pivot but it will also help to keep the abdomen from gaining extra pounds, which is not necessary in swinging a golf club. One will find these exercises much more interesting if he will pose in front of a mirror.

Georges Carpenter Signs Articles For Bout With Delaney

Paris, Oct. 30.—Georges Carpenter, former light heavyweight champion of the world, today signed articles to meet Jimmy Delaney St. Paul light heavyweight, in a ten-round bout in California between January 15 and January 31, 1926.

Jack Doyle, Los Angeles promoter, announced yesterday that Carpenter offering him thirty percent of the gate receipts and $5,000 for expenses for a ten-round bout with Delaney in Los Angeles. Carpenter has said he will seek a meeting with Paul Bonhach, present light heavyweight champion, in New York.

In the men's doubles Robert and Howard Kinsey of San Francisco defeated Delpancano and Lecana of Mexico City, 6-1, 6-4, 6-4.

STOCKS BOOM IN LONDON AS OUTLOOK CLEARS

Locarno Conference Turns Britain to Thinking of Better Times

Platinum Boom Over, But Other Lines Are Gaining More Prominence

London, Oct. 30 (Canadian Press Cable)—It is a long time since the stock exchange has exhibited so generally cheerful an aspect as it has this week. It should be added, however, that this largely proceeds from sentimental considerations, and while there was an advance in prices all round, by no means follow that buyers and sellers are scrambling over each other to do business. All the same, the Locarno Conference has spread its beneficial influence over Throgmorton Street, which, with the rest of the world, is now hoping for better times. British gilt-edged securities have maintained their brightness, and gains continue to recover from depression. Iron, coal and steel and textile shares have shown themselves to be on the up-grade.

Even the shipbuilding industry is regarded less gloomily now than it has been for a long time.

Against this marketable show of interest in securities here is the fact that the popularity of platinum seems to have evaporated entirely. Recent developments by several big concerns have been far short of expectations, while the crazy speculation at Johannesburg has had its repercussion here. Rubber share remain prominent. Steel and iron issues have been over-subscribed, and more are promised for the immediate future. Other impending new issues are in connection with artificial silk, coffee and electrical undertakings, which follow from sentimental considerations arising from the improved European political situation and indicating a rising faith in a better future for trade and commerce.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain
How to Treat

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, pain, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to an excess of mucus. To dilute stomach acid, irritate, digestion is delayed and food sour, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well. Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and starches, fruit juices, etc., a few grains of Bismarck Magnesia and take a teaspoonful of a quarter grain of water right after eating. This will stop the stomach, prevent the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bismarck Magnesia (in powder or tablet form) is equally inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by many physicians who advise people with no more fear of indigestion.

The Over-Fat are disappearing fast

You have noted how excess fat is disappearing now? It is not one-tenth as common as was. Normal weight is fast becoming almost universal.

It would be an idea of style and health calls for slenderness today. So do health and fitness. Excess fat is now a blight for which there is no excuse.

MYRON HERRICK HAS NEW HOME IN PARIS

Paris, Oct. 30.—Myron T. Herrick, United States Ambassador to France, who was a guest of honor at the American Club yesterday, said that for the first time since the establishment of an United States diplomatic mission in Paris the United States Ambassador was no longer homeless. Mr. Herrick had just moved into the new embassy purchased in March, 1924. This is the fifth time Mr. Herrick has changed his residence in the seven years he had been Ambassador in Paris.

LOSS OF POTATOES CAUSED BY FROST

Grand Forks, N.D., Oct. 30.—Hard freezing weather of the last week is estimated by crop statisticians here to have caused the loss of fifteen per cent. of the potatoes grown this year in the northeastern market. North Dakota's frost damage is making difficult the lifting of sugar beets, many acres of which will be locked up for the winter and lost if the temperature continues to drop.

THE TIME-WORN TOWN

By J. S. Fletcher

The Town Clerk, a rosy-cheeked man, turned pale. His gloves lay on the table at his elbow, and his fingers trembled a little as he picked them up and began fitting them on with meticulous precision.

"My dear sir!" he said, in a tone that suggested his profession more strongly than ever. "That's very grave language. As a solicitor, I should advise you."

"When I say murderer," continued Brent, "I'm perhaps wrong. I might—and no doubt ought—to have used the plural—murderers! I believe that more than one of your rascally Corporation conspired to murder my cousin! And I'm going to have no blood-stained hypocrites pressuring after a coffin! You tell 'em to keep away!"

"I had better withdraw," said the Town Clerk.

"No hurry," observed Brent, changing to geniality. He laid his hand on the bell. "Have whisky and soda and a cigar?—We've finished our business, and I guess you're a man as well as a lawyer, eh?"

is speed in the House on August 3. But the visitor was unable to disclose his personal identity from office, and he bowed himself out. Brent laughed when he had gone.

"Got the weight of four hundred and eighty-one years of incorporation in him!" he said. "Lord! It's like living with generation after generation of your grandfathers slung round you! Four hundred and eighty-one years! Must have been in the bad old days when this mouldy town got it!"

Next morning Brent buried the dead Mayor in St. Hathewode's Churchyard, privately and quietly. He stayed by the grave until the sexton and the assistants had laid the green turf over it; that done, he went round to the Abbey House and sought out Mrs. Saumarez. After his characteristic fashion he spoke out what was in his mind.

"I've pretty well fixed up—in myself, at least what you suggested last night," he said, giving her one of his direct glances. "You know what I mean:—to go on with his work."

Mrs. Saumarez's eyes sparkled.

"That would be splendid!" she exclaimed. "But if he had opposition, you'll have it a hundred fold! You're not afraid?"

"Afraid of nothing," said Brent, carelessly. "But—I just don't know how I'd get any ride to it. I'm not a townsman. I've no locus standi. But then, he wasn't to begin with."

"I've forgotten that," said Mrs. Saumarez. "And—you'd have to give up your work in London—journalism, isn't it?"

"We thought of that," said Brent. "Well, I've had a pretty good spell at it, and I'm not so keen about keeping on with it any longer. There's other work—literary work—I'd prefer. And I'm not dependent on it anyway. I've got a bit of my own, and now Wallingford's left me a good lot of money. No, I guess I won't mind coming here and going on with the job he'd set himself to. I'd like to do it. But then—how to get a footing in the place?"

Mrs. Saumarez considered for awhile. Suddenly her face lighted up.

"You've got money," she said. "Why don't you buy a bit of property in the town—a piece of real estate? Then—" Brent picked up his hat.

"That's a good notion," he said. "I'll step round and see Tansley about it."

Tansley had been one of the few men whom Brent had invited to be present at his cousin's interment. He had just changed his mourning garments for those of every-day life.

WAX Your Linoleum

YOUR linoleum will last longer, look better and clean easier if you polish it occasionally with Johnson's Paste or Liquid Wax. It prevents cracking—brings out the pattern and colour—protects linoleum from wear—and makes cleaning easy.

JOHNSON'S Paste - Liquid - Powdered POLISHING WAX

Wax is the ideal finish and polish for all your floors. It will make them beautiful—easy to care for—they won't be slippery—and will not heel-print. And WAX is, by far, the most economical finish and polish for floors and linoleum. With waxed floors expensive refinishing is never necessary for, walked-on places can be easily and quickly waxed as they appear without going over the entire floor.

The easy way to wax floors and linoleums is to use a Johnson Weighted Polishing Brush. It spreads the Wax evenly—polishes the Wax easily—and is an ideal floor duster.

A Perfect Furniture Polish
Johnson's Liquid Wax is the ideal furniture polish. It covers up surface marks and prevents checking. Forms a thin, protecting finish coat and takes all the drudgery from dusting. Johnson's Wax adds years to the life and beauty of varnish. It is easy to apply and polish.

Johnson's Polishing Wax is conveniently put up in three forms. Use the Paste Wax for all floors—wood, linoleum, tile, etc. We recommend the Liquid Wax for polishing furniture, phonographs, wood-work, linoleum, leather and motor cars. Johnson's Powdered Wax will immediately put any floor in perfect condition for dancing.

so very vicious in themselves, but because of the jazz morality they represent.

There is a good deal about infidelity and about money. Jimmy gives his £2,300. She spends some of it to put two private detectives on his track.

"What can a man buy with money after he's 55—that'll do any good?" Jimmy asks. The audience responds at once to the obvious reference.

These may be the ideas of a section of modern youth. These may be their interests, their preoccupations. There are certain things they like to see and hear—for, I say, the audience is crowded, and is likely to be crowded for months to come. This is success.

I suppose that in the end, Nanette arranges to become "a good wife to a good man," though in the first act she referred to this possibility in such a tone of scathing satire that her young audience roared in sympathy. She supposes she marries him. I don't know, because I left after the second act. Two acts of such high-spiced modernity were as much as I could stand.

For the first time in my considerations of Youth To-day, I felt a little surprised at the saxophone players in the orchestra, recognizing them as the presiding deities of the piece.

The conductor, too, had his share. A good deal of the hectic broken rhythm is really due to the conductor. He conducts mostly with his hands. Now and again he plays the piano. In the famous "Tea for Two" number, he plays the "dance" by "leading out nicely" on the successive notes, thus producing a refined jazz syncopation which is startlingly novel.

A YOUNG AUDIENCE

The audience, in spite of the price of the seats, was a young one. The Royal circle and the stalls were full, and there was a good deal of evening dress. They loved "No No Nanette." I don't know exactly what sort of section of modern youth this audience represented, but I will always know what I mean when I think of "No No Nanette" youth. They are quite different from anything else I have seen.

Mrs. Binnie Hale is Nanette. She plays the part with that highly finished style.

No. No Nanette

That's all I have.
I get it in the middle day long.

She rebels against her restricted opportunities, accepts £20 from a rich man and goes off to stay at his cottage by the sea.

Please God send me a husband-like Jimmy," is one of her prayers. Jimmy being the rich man who has given her £20. Jimmy, by the way, made his money selling pianos.

"I must read that book!" says another character on hearing that it is the source of his fortune. Jimmy has been kind to three other women, all of whom pursue him to his cottage. One of them, Flora, is very big and fat. Her physical peculiarities supply a good deal of comedy in the second act. Jimmy refers to her as "The Covered Wagon" and "a hunk."

Perhaps the dominating theme of the piece is "I want to be happy." That, too, is a theme of modern youth and so is exquisitely popular.

I want to be happy.
But I won't be happy
Till I make you happy
Too—oo—oo!

Jazz, of course strident and syncopated until the rhythm is a series of almost independent jerks. There is a great deal of dancing. It is of the super-modern variety, so difficult as to be almost impossible, as thrilling as anything in the musicals of old. Of course it is perfect. Its precision is something at which one can wonder. The finish of the "Tea for Two" dance for example, when Nanette is dragged off backward, one foot on the floor and the other held high above her head, is timed to a fraction of a second. It demands youth, skill, nerve, agility and superb co-ordination skills to achieve this across the syncopated rhythm of jazz. It is supremely well done. That it is not worth doing is perhaps merely a matter of opinion, but it happens to be my opinion.

Modern youth, or at least a large section of it, including many young actors, poets, writers and musicians, is too often occupied doing things which are not worth doing, and doing them with a masterly precision.

NOBODY MINDS

I have seen "The Vortex;" I have seen some of the so-called decadent plays produced by the Sunday Societies. I have been very much puzzled at the country against them. They seemed so harmless.

But no one minds the words that are spoken in "No No Nanette."

The only way to keep a husband straight is to keep his boy.
Men are only grown up boys.
Pretty ladies are their toys.
I've been married seven years and I've never kissed any woman but my wife.

What's the matter with you?
Don't you like to marry and raise a family?
I'd like to raise a little boy—first!

These are merely examples of a light-hearted optimism which made my blood run cold. Not because they are

HIJACK MURDER-IN CALIFORNIA SUSPECTED

San Francisco, Oct. 30.—Police and federal authorities are searching for an unidentified man declared to be the victim of a party of hijackers, who, posing as prohibition agents, halted his automobile near Colma, near here, and made away with several cases of liquor. In the opinion of officers, the hijackers kidnapped and perhaps murdered the man.
